118th Annual Christmas Bird Count December 14—January 5

Love watching birds as they flit about? Perhaps you enjoy their beautiful colors. Become a citizen scientist and report the birds you see between December 14—January 5. Reporting is a monitoring mechanism to identify increased or reduced numbers and diversity of birds in our area. This data is then used to try and identify reasons for the change. Why is this important? Birds are indicators of the health of our local environment.
